The Sipping News: Pad your bottle with a Wineskin

Lynne Char Bennett, Chronicle Staff Writer
Friday, July 11, 2008

Wine and spirits generally come in sturdy bottles, but if you occasionally want a little extra protection for the bottle, Wineskin might help. Slip a bottle into the formed-to-fit Wineskin, which is made from Bubble Wrap and has an adhesive strip. Though the Wineskin doesn't provide insulation, it will cushion the bottle when it's jostled. And its manufacturer claims it will contain any broken glass and liquid should the bottle break in your mishandled checked luggage.
